There were trips to doctors, psychiatrists, hospitals and clinics. Nothing helped. Last fall, the Chicago Center for Achievement of Human Potential of Loretto Hospital recommended a new treatment that was having some success. It is called programming therapy whereby manipulation of limbs is supposed to cause aware-

Right—A free-hand competition of Santa Claus was a prize for Mike Barone, 11, 114 N. Forest, Arlington Heights.

The Salvation Army was delighted. They suggested the corner of State and Madison in Chicago as the busiest. The boys called Carson, Pirie Scott & Co. The department store was more than helpful. The store staff furnished an electrician to put an extension cord from an upper floor for the amplifiers.

"It was pretty cold," said Tom. "When we played old Santa just stood there ringing his bell in time to the music. I don't know how much money went into the pot but it seemed to be flowing steadily. We played for an hour. There certainly was a large crowd of people gathered around us. I couldn't even see where the crowd ended. Some of the teens were dancing. We would have played longer but our hands were turning blue."

"It's no wonder that people talk so much about teen-agers. They're certainly unpredictable something."

Cuba to Be Club's Topic

The cover of communism in Cuba during the last 14 years will be outlined by Dr. Florio Calhoun in the first 1963 meeting of the Women's Republican Club of the 13th Congressional District on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. at the Villa Melrose Holiday Inn in Highland Park.

Dr. Calhoun, former virgilio department chairman of the Cuban Public Health Bureau, has been in the U.S. since 1959 to work for the U.S. Health Service. He is currently serving on the staffs of Evanston, St. Francis and Children's Memorial hospitals and the Credit Society of Evanston.

The physician will discuss conditions that led to the rise of Fidel Castro.

Club members may bring guests. Tea will be served after Dr. Calhoun's address.

The group will conduct a "fun day" including a luncheon and style show May 4 at the Pool and Paddock of Arlington Park.

Mrs. Henry Burdick of Evanston is club president. Other officers organizing programs are Mrs. Robert Arthur of Schaumburg, Mrs. K. O. Park of Northbrook and Mrs. George Sands of Golf.

Officers For 1963 Installed

New officers of Arlington Heights Chapter 902 of the Order of the Eastern Star recently were installed.

Mrs. Marie Carlson will serve as worthy matron. Other leaders are Mrs. Lulu Livingston, associate matron; Neil Livingston, associate protector; Mrs. Florence Lachar, secretary; Mrs. Ota Kelley, treasurer; and Mrs. Pauline Brown, conductress.

Also, Mrs. Monte Johnson, associate conductress; Mrs. Beverly Albrecht, associate protector; Mrs. Betty Guerin, matron; Mrs. Jerry Hyslop, secretary; Mrs. Janet Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Randall, matron; Mrs. Ada Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. LaVane Dicker, matron; and Mrs. Ellice DeLoe, treasurer.

Others are Mrs. Emma Broadbent, wander; Ernest Lachar, wander; Mrs. DeLoe, wander; and Mrs. Ida Calhoun, wander.

The organization meets the second and fourth Thursday of each month at the Arlington Heights Masonic Temple.

Camp Fire Candy Sale Successful

A successful candy sale by the new Camp Fire leaders and sponsors from Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. The coffee was sold in Pioneer Park field house, Arlington Heights.

The sale, which began last month, raised money for the Camp Fire area program.

In other organizations, two new groups have been established. These are a group of second grade Blue Birds from Juliette Lee School and a fourth-grade Camp Fire group from Winnetka.

Mrs. Ralph Brinkman is the Blue Bird leader. Mrs. J. H. Higgins, Camp Fire guardian.

Women meeting transportation may contact Mrs. Norma Shubert at 437-2380.

Little Girl's Hair Needs Loving Care

If you sometimes despair over the appearance of your little girl's so-called crowning glory, you have lots of company.

That's not to imply that lots of mothers don't try to help their daughters have pretty hair, because obviously they do.

But the hair of the child under 12 presents some hairdressing problems. It is usually curly, is either resistant to cut or somewhat kinky and tends to look oily.

There are a few simple rules that may help Mrs. Patricia, stylist for Beek, offers the following suggestion:

Use Shampoos
Dandruff is more of a problem in a woman than in a child, says Dr. Louis R. Weiler, director of dermatology at Beek.

He attributes the increase in dandruff when cold weather sets in to more head coverings and less sun.

Dandruff often is caused or accompanied by bacteria or fungi.

Shampooing as often as twice a week with shampoos or other shampoo formulated to combat dandruff is helpful, he decided.

The shampoo loosens scales and controls itching as well.

Dr. Weiler also advises daily brushing to loosen scales and to distribute the natural scalp oils.

hair shinier by distributing natural oils.

Don't let her wash her hair more than once a week. Frequent shampooing is drying to delicate, fine hair, and is a big contributor toward that sandy look. Also, use a mild shampoo formulated for children's hair.

Follow the shampooing with a pre-formaldehyde cream rinse with hair. This will give the hair fullness and remove snags.

For brush hair little individual buns of Cranberry Butter Buns! Or you might want to try piping hot pancakes with cinnamon cranberry syrup.

a light, fluffy omelet with sautéed cranberry nut filling or Cranberry Pumpkin Muffins.

So while cranberries are in season through the rest of the year, use them as an ingredient in your pet projects. Freeze them for future use, or preserve them in jams, jellies and relishes for next year's brunches.

Holiday Coffee and Cake For That Informal Touch

Informal parties call for well-brewed coffee with the coffee maker on show for guests to help themselves.

One of the hostess gifts for an entertaining homemaker is a new automatic coffee maker in muted tones of turquoise, blue or adams brown to accent her table setting.

A "keep warm" feature also allows a homemaker to enjoy her own party as the coffee is maintained at proper drinking temperature.

Gourmet homemakers pride themselves in serving a variety of coffee tastes. Home-ec onomists in the General Electric Housewares test kitchen suggest that "the extra" such as whipped cream, sugar and cocoa be set on trays for a do-it-yourself coffee party.

In recipes calling for small amounts of coffee, the new Mini-Brew coffee maker basket accessory is perfect for making only two or three cups of coffee. Clip and save these tasty recipes from the next kitchen.

Groundbreaking Set for Jan. 8

Building Contract Awarded for New Library

One could wait the relief among the members of the Arlington Heights Library Board of Directors has right as they voted, at last, to award the contract for the construction of the proposed new Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

A resolution was adopted to enter into a contract with Four Contractors, Inc. in the amount of $1,136,289. The official groundbreaking ceremony will be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 8. This is exactly one year after voters passed the referendum which set the wheels in motion toward attainment of the new facility.

Also at the meeting, the board approved a resolution authorizing the president to enter into a "construction grant" contract with Paul Fawell, state librarian, for a grant of $208,051 in federal money.

The awarding of the bid was delayed from last Thursday, when architect Robert Nicol said the board of Four Contractors had asked permission to change one of the sub-contractors that had been selected.

Nicol told board members that the contractor accepted the low bid from Melrose Park Electric Co. as electrical subcontractor without a change to investigate the company's background. A subsequent investigation, Nicol said, revealed repeated crime syndicate connections of Melrose officials.

Nicol said the Melrose bid would have been repeated anyway, because the architect believed the firm does not have enough experience with jobs the size of the one being bid.

At last night's meeting, approval was granted to substitute the firm of Walsh & Co. of Chicago to do the electrical work on the library.

The change in firms will not change the bid of Four Contractors.

NICOL also expressed satisfaction with the firm of the Henry Co., selected by Four Contractors to do the heating and ventilating for the project. At last Thursday's meeting, he said, he would move more time to check the company's credentials.

Finally, Nicol reported to the board that the decision to select one of two alternatives planned for the building will result in a $12,600 savings. The saving is reflected in the grant contract, Nicol reported last night.

Work is expected to begin on the proposed library as soon as ground is broken. Four Contractors estimated that the building will be completed by Nov. 15, 1967.

Trustee Hanlon to Run Again; Mees to Drop Out

Walsh Still Mum On Plans

By BILL PETERSON

One village trustee, announced last night he will run for reelection while another said he will not. A third said maybe.

Thomas Hanlon, who reluctantly agreed village trustee collection policy this fall, told The Day he will submit name to the Arlington Heights Civic Recommendation Committee for consideration.

At the same time Carl F. Mees, chairman of the powerful finance committee, dropped out of the race.

The two men, like just Trustee John Walsh's position, undecided.

THE SEATS of the three trustees go up for grabs in the village election next April. The official groundbreaking ceremony is charged with interviewing prospective candidates and preparing names to the Civic Recommendation Committee.

The first Caucus whittles the list down to, when it gives its endorsement. In Caucus no election.

Hanlon said he made his decision "after consulting with the committee" and reviewing the requirements of his job.

"I decided to submit my name to the Civic Recommendation Committee," he said. "In the end they look on my candidacy with favor. I'll just honor our town for re-election."

HE SAID a recent change in jobs will give him more time to devote to the office than he has in the past.

MEES BOWED out of the race in a letter to Recommendation Committee Chairman Scott Ball.

"I have decided that there are many well qualified people in Arlington Heights who may like to serve as a village trustee. There are many who should be given the opportunity to serve in this position and deciding the destiny of our village, there are many who should represent the rich and rewarding experience being a village trustee, therefore I have decided to step aside."

The committee hopes to start interviewing candidates Jan. 14.

Anyone interested in being a village trustee or anyone holding of prospective candidates is urged to contact Ball at CL 3-2377.

Want a Job As Village Trustee?

Curriculum Recommendation Committee Chairman Scott Ball says his committee is "all looking" for village board candidates.

He said 200 letters have been sent to civic organizations and businessmen seeking possible names.

About 30 letters have been sent to individuals asking them to appear before the committee but Ball has not received a single reply.

admitted discussing his intention to run for reelection "might not be as politically wise as the advice of my co-

The reference was obviously made at Walsh who says he has put off thinking about running until after the holidays.

Some observers say that Walsh, the youngest and most vocal trustee, would soundly like to be village president.

Field To Build TV Station In Milwaukee

The Federal Communications Commission has approved the sale of the station and the transfer of a communications permit for television channel 24 in Milwaukee from the former owner to Field Communications Corp.

According to Field Communications, the station will always be located at the "Pulse Building" in Milwaukee. The station is a big factor, he added.

Shelton suggested that the city begin thinking of the establishment of a municipal television station.

Schmitt

Named To Library Board

Mayor William Meeks last night appointed Nicholas Schmitt, former Illinois State Representative, to the Arlington Heights Library Board.

The appointment came after Schmitt wrote a letter to Mayor Meeks stating that he had been asked to serve on the board by members and said that Meeks appoint him.

Museum Tops First Fund Goal

But $10,000 is Just Start in Campaign

The Museum Fund Drive has topped its first goal of $10,000-gone with a few dollars to go.

Fund Drive Chairman Virgil Horath said donations from Arlington Heights residents, many of $100 or more, enabled the drive over its goal.

"The reaction here just ran come through for us. They put this thing over," Horath said.

Reaching the goal, however, doesn't mean the drive isn't looking for more money.

"We're just off the ground," the drive chairman said.

THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS Historical Society still needs about $25,000 to complete its plans for the Melrose home it bought in 1950 corner of Van Buren and 5th St.

Horath said the Historical Society hopes to start moving into the museum sometime after Jan. 1.

It has recently received two display gifts from anonymous donors. Horath says the gifts worth more than $1,000.

One donor called him at 1:15 p.m. and said the case would be delivered the next morning.

"I told him I'd be at the museum in 5 or 10 minutes," he said.

Horath said, McDevitt's and the cases were delivered at 8:30.

Horath said he is "real pleased" that the drive's first haul is complete.

He said more than 500 people have donated to the drive. Much of the credit for reaching the goal belongs to the staff.

He said the following are creditable donors:

Anne A. Bunn, Arlington Heights, and a Warner, Barton, Shaw, Reister, and C. Behrens Reister, Carl B. Reister, F.B.K. Reister, and Jon Warriner Inc.

Road Crews Gearing Up To Fight The Heavy Snow

Before the first snowfalls come in municipal and state yards were mounting plans, filling trucks with salt and readying equipment for this year's first blow with the weather.

Dave Creamer, director of public works in Mount Prospect, said that he department had been gearing for the snow since the weather bureau first warned the city of the possibility of a heavy snowfall.

"Our operation during this storm is not unusual," Creamer said, "excepting the use of a few extra trucks."

"We have 12 pieces of snow removal equipment standing by at this time," Creamer said. "I also have a complete set of salt, all of whom will be on 24-hour alert during the storm."

In Rolling Meadows, James McFadden, superintendent of public works, maintained a control center in the municipal garage.

"Our equipment is alerted to any action that the city may want to take," McFadden said.

Garbage Disposal Pact Voted By City Council

By MEL MILES

The Rolling Meadows-City Council last night unanimously accepted a garbage disposal contract submitted to the Harrison Trucking Co. which will eliminate a hike in the waste rates for all families within the city.

The fee for a 4-wheel pickup truck will be reduced to $2.50 per month and the fee for a 6-wheel pickup truck will be reduced to $3.75 per month.

R. D. Henniger, city controller and chairman of the committee charged with negotiating the contract, said the council had not had submitted a contract - proposal only to have it turned down by the Harrison Trucking Co. which would eliminate a hike in the waste rates for all families within the city.

Garbage Disposal Pact Voted By City Council

By MEL MILES

The Rolling Meadows-City Council last night unanimously accepted a garbage disposal contract submitted to the Harrison Trucking Co. which will eliminate a hike in the waste rates for all families within the city.

The fee for a 4-wheel pickup truck will be reduced to $2.50 per month and the fee for a 6-wheel pickup truck will be reduced to $3.75 per month.

R. D. Henniger, city controller and chairman of the committee charged with negotiating the contract, said the council had not had submitted a contract - proposal only to have it turned down by the Harrison Trucking Co. which would eliminate a hike in the waste rates for all families within the city.

Ice -- Here At Last!

For the first time this season temperatures have dropped enough to enable the Arlington Heights Park, down to freeze for skaters. The warming house at Reservoir Park welcomed its first guests this week.

Making good use of the slippery stuff, James Ange, 6, of 801 N. Plain, takes a slip at a landing jump during an ice-promotion game at Reservoir Park. A first grader at North School, Jim is one of hundreds of children who flocked to Park District skating rinks this week when sub-freezing temperatures gave them their long-awaited skating surface.

After an afternoon on the ice, a hard wind in a warming house can feel mighty good. Mrs. Arthur Trentler, 1040 N. Forest, sends 9-year-old daughter, Sandy, in running a skate. Mothers who spent hours on the ice, taking advantage of the Christmas holidays, they alternated visits on the ice with visits to the warming house to take the chill out of their bones.

Garbage Rates Given Boost

average service. "We're completely in the mercy of this company," he said. "They talk about monopolies and point to companies like Standard Oil, but if this isn't a monopoly, I don't know what the word means." Ehrhardt said. The third ward alderman then asked if the garbage committee had looked into what the Burlington firm was charging other municipalities.

Manager produced a copy of a recently negotiated contract between Burlington Trucking and the village of Hoffman Estates. "The rates in this contract are identical with those Burlington submitted to us," Manager said.

EHRHARDT, who obviously had done some homework prior to the discussion, blanching in the face of complaints he claimed were covered by Burlington. He named Peoria and Rockford as cities using the firms' services. "Has anyone bothered to contact any of these municipalities served by Burlington under similar? Ehrhardt asked. Hangerup replied that such inquiry had been conducted.

"Well, I'm sure that they're smart enough to charge a neighborly village the same rate, but I wonder if this is the best they could do," Ehrhardt said. Alderman John Mickus, a member of the negotiating committee said, "Gentlemen, I'm not pleased with this contract any more than you are, but under the circumstances it's the best we can do -- what alternative do we have?"

MICKUS agreed with Mickus and said, "This is a predicament that we get ourselves into several years ago and there is not much we can do about it now -- maybe we can wait three years before this contract expires in the year 1970." The solution is getting together with several other municipalities and holding a common facility like an incinerator," Mickus said. "I think we're to blame and maybe we need a little kick in the pants," he added.

Mickus ordered the roll to be called and one by one the 10 aldermen voted in favor of accepting the contract. They all voted quietly and most of them stared at the floor as they cast their votes. Burlington was awarded the contract on terms dictated by Burlington -- everyone knew it and no one was happy about it.

The subcommittee of the District 23 Citizens Committee assigned to evaluating the district's buildings and classroom facilities has divided the scope of its inquiry into three main areas.

Clayton Sauer and Joseph Wagner will concentrate on a study of the enrollment projections for the district and the projected building power.

Discount Plan Announced By Airline

America Airlines has announced a new reward-and-loyalty group discount fare for youths wishing to fly from Chicago to Washington D.C.

Under the new plan, groups of 14 or more passengers under 21 years of age accompanied by one passenger at least 20 years of age can fly for half the normal air coach fare.

The reduced fare will apply to America's flight departing Chicago at 10:00 p.m. and the return flight leaving Washington at 9:30 p.m. Both flights are non-stop.

According to an American spokesman, the new plan will become effective Feb. 1 if approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

From Germany; Fresh Ideas for Punchbowls

If you're having a party for a number of guests, it's a sure bet that you'll serve punch. Punch is handy for the hostess because she can mix the beverage, arrange the bowl and send them all back and forth by her company.

For your party at home, the Germans have a few ideas you may like to borrow. Here are three recipes for your table from the land of all dogs and good wine.

The first is a neutral blend of combined calery with wine and rum. Orange-blossom, the second, combines orange and three types of wine.

European is a variation of the traditional eggling.

REDPUNCH (EGG PUNCH)

4 lemons
1/2 cup sugar
1 quart white wine, white or Malaga
1 pint rum or German brandy

12 eggs
1 pint water
crushed glass of lemon

Orange-blossom (EGG PUNCH)

1 pint white wine, imported
1 bottle Malaga wine
1/4 pint each rum and water
Sugar to taste (syrup)

Clear calery root thoroughly, cutting off all the rough outside. Then slice the root very thinly into a bowl. Sprinkle with the sugar to require (begin with 2 cups) and stir in the rum and water.

Cover the bowl and set it in a larger bowl of crushed ice. Shake the bowl and stir it out into the refrigerator as needed. Strain and add the wine (also chilled) and water sweetened with sugar syrup to taste. Mix well and serve at once.

ORANGE-BLOSSOM (EGG PUNCH)

5 oranges
2 tablespoons sugar
1 bottle Malaga wine
2 bottles Malaga sparkling wine

Peel oranges, slice them in a large bowl and spiced with sugar. Let stand for 30 minutes.

Ever wonder what goes on in the Paris fashion house during the winter?

The life is a busy one. It is likely to be well aware of the winter season in fall and spring, when collections for the coming seasons are prepared and shown. But it is also busy during the days when Paris shows are busy with the changing of the guard.

The model as reported by the Paris houses of the Winter Day, a plenty.

Designs created right now are for both the women who spend the winter in a chilly climate and the lucky girl who has should her youth for a South Seas cruise.

FOR THE sea seekers, there is a tiny bodice dress in green jersey by Lippert and Kaly.

It features narrow shoulder straps, a gentle V-neck and flaring pants (bustle) in sea green.

More Chastel who had the fashioning to a model when she designed a harem suit (trousers) into English, French and jump with harem trousers.

STAY-AT-HOMES should enjoy a belly cloth created by Christine Baily for Nole Janor. With a yellow wool top and gathered black skirt, it's a good bet for the working woman who likes to look like a queen.

Once is an advance of a very new and also very old of the mid-20th century. Her version combines a white jersey dress with a black skirt and a short of course any can be for the brave fashion and there are matching blouse with leather collar.

Also new in the French camp is a "big girl" dress by MacDouglas. The dress, which looks more like a coat, is made of brown leather. A zipper breaks the design.

Scene Sound Familiar?

The Not-so-fine Art Of Giving Parties

BY JERILYN WATSON

Women's Editor

It's 3 p.m. on the day of your holiday party, and the telephone is ringing. You drop the vacuum cleaner on your sore toe and race to answer it.

"Hello," you manage to cough into the receiver.

"Oh, hi," says the voice on the other end of the line. It's your friend Kate, who is a dear but who loves to talk on the telephone.

"How are you coming with the preparations?" Kate asks. "I saw a really looking forward to tonight."

"Well," you say, trying to sound friendly but harassed. "I was just starting to vacuum."

That should convey your message to Kate, but it doesn't. Instead, it reminds her of her last party, when she did the vacuuming 15 minutes before her guests arrived.

Probably, you assume, she spent the afternoon on the telephone.

FINALLY Kate concludes her story and goes to the point of her call. She wants to know if you'd like her to bring any thing.

You're tempted to answer that it would be nice if she did, but it would imply that you're not prepared for your 30 guests, but instead you're not.

"Oh, no," you say, trying to sound friendly but harassed. "I was just starting to vacuum."

Back to the vacuum cleaner, house.

This time, it's the doorknob.

Whoosh. Into the bathroom, where you spend a relaxing and soothing interval of four minutes.

You leap into your clothes, which fortunately you've prepared in advance in case of last-minute hurry.

ALL BUT the stockings, that is. At the last minute, you find that you're out of stockings. There's a run in your most prized. You try to get an extra pair, frantically searching for a shade that looks good with your dress.

On the last pair, you give up and decide to make do. After all, the only other stockings you have are those that you bought for a last-minute shopping trip.

Frank Hogan Tallies 29 Points

St. Viator Five Crushes Von Steuben in Tourney

St. Viator exploded for 35 points in the first quarter last night and went on to post a 95-51 slaughter over Von Steuben in the consolation round of the Notre Dame Holiday Basketball Tournament.

The victory squared St. Viator's tournament record at 1-1 and moved the Lions into the consolation semi-finals to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. Thursday's final opponent will be one of four teams still in the championship race.

The first half last night, as usual, local eagles found their way into the scoring columns, and four of them finished in double figures. Frank Hogan, the Lions' crackback guard, led everyone with 29 points, including 16 of them in the first quarter.

Dan Collins and Greg Polick were next for St. Viator, scoring with 17 points apiece, while Tom Eppert added 12 even though he sat out the fourth period.

Nonattill's quietest look came from the Foramen squad that had beaten Monday night and clamped a full-court press on the hapless Panthers almost as soon as they got out of the locker room. It didn't have more effect.

VON STEUBEN has all it could do to get the ball to mid-court, but allow to the Lions goal. A series of five straight Panther turnovers with empty two minutes left in the first game gave St. Viator a 15-point lead, and the outcome was never in doubt after that.

The Lions stretched their margin to 33-24 at halftime and expended it to 74-36 with a quarter to go. Nonattill made everyone but the cheerleaders in the first period in an effort to keep the score down, but St. Viator still came a winner away from losing the victory mark.

Arlington 5 Rolls Past Morris in Tourney Play

Arlington's Big Red varsity basketball team rolled to its seventh straight 1960 triumph without defeat in yesterday's consolation final at 65-47.

The win came in the first round of the Kankakee Holiday Tournament, and advanced the Cardinals to a 7-30 semifinals date tonight against the winner of last night's Clifton Central-Kankakee Western quarter-final tie.

A WIN TONIGHT will send the Cards into tomorrow's tournament finals at 9 p.m. A win would put them in a third-place ferry at 7:30 p.m.

Steve Allen, Arlington's high-scoring, 6-3 senior guard-forward, led the way against the shorter Morris, scoring yesterday, pumping in 21 points and leading the floor.

The Cardinals were never in trouble against the outsiders.

holding leads of eight- to 14-point most of the way. Coach Ted Wines was able to clear his mind of the second half, giving all 10 players some playing time.

St. Viator's Pat Zeller pushes a fourth-quarter shot toward the basket and Mike Michelson of Von Steuben gets there too late to stop him. Zeller added two points to the Lions' season-high total of 95 last night.

WHISTLE STOP

by JOHN KATZLER

In talking with my fellow editor in stripes (those without numbers), I found that the new season has given birth to a couple of crowd-appealing. Both of these situations are not entirely new, but due to the emphasis placed on them during this year's rules amendments, the officials are calling them out more frequently.

ONE SITUATION is as follows: (a) After a player has left his feet in an attempt to shoot or pass, but opponent steps into his path. Coach means when shooter or passer returns to the floor, (b) a player takes a shot and his opponent leaves his feet in an attempt to block the shot. While (a) is in the air, the player with the ball moves under the opponent and the opponent lands on him.

RULING: In both (a) and (b) it is an intentional foul on the player who moved under the opponent, who is in the air. The penalty is two free throws in each case. If in (a) the foul passes through the basket, the shot also counts.

This ruling is based on the interpretation that such an act is at least an intentional foul, and in extreme cases, it is a flagrant foul. The latter results in disqualification of the offender, as well as the two free throws.

Unbeaten Cards Fall From State Cage Poll

Arlington was bounced from the United Press International state basketball ranking poll between one and the week's end with games at Prospect, Rockford, Clinton, Niles North, and the Rockford West Road Rebels. Any senior player which I run into will be the subject for next week's column. Until then, have a happy basketball holiday by supporting your favorite team.

Favored Fives Win in Tourney

Gleashed East, the team ranked most likely to knock off Arlington in the Kankakee Holiday Basketball Tournament, was shipped Bishop McNamara 67-55 last night.

Other tourney games, Kankakee Western trounced Clifton Central 79-53 and Kankakee Eastridge beat West Aurora 66-35.

Arlington, a 6-547 winner, was the first seed in the consolation tourney at 7:30 last night in the semifinals. Gleashed East, ranked 10th, lost to Arlington 67-55.

Consolation bracket games today send Clifton against Morris at 2 p.m. and McNamara against West Aurora at 3:30 p.m.

THE RATINGS follow:

1. Collinsville, 2. Benton,

ALBION OUT-PLAYED MORRIS in every statistic, hitting on 27 of 57 shots from the floor for a 47.4 percentage and grabbing 41 rebounds. Morris hit only 15 times in 74 shots for a victory 250 percent.

The Cardinals scored only 19 rebounds.

Arlington was as effective from the charity stripe, hitting only 11 of 19 shots, but the Cards still outscored Morris, which committed nine times in 11 fouls.

Three straight one-and-one opportunities during the first five minutes of the game cost the Big Red a possible points and kept the final margin respectable for Morris, which fell into the consolation bracket.

JIM DONCHESKI and Dave Lockwood were the big rebounders for Arlington. Donchieski engaged 13, while Lockwood took second honors with 10.

Arlington out-scored the losers in all but the third quarter, and held a 34-21 half-time lead.

The players settled at the gym to watch the second game yesterday afternoon, then went to an amorphous ball game at the Hotel Kankakee, where the team is quartered.

The squad was given its freedom last night to attend a movie or return to the town to watch the night action or anything else they wished.

A high workout was held at 11 a.m. today in a pre-game school gym in preparation for tonight's action.

Help Forecast For Home Buyers

The director of research for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards says that credits will not be as tight for home buyers in 1967 as it has been in recent months.

Director Catherine E. Marti however, warned, "This is not to say that mortgage financing will be as easy to acquire or that terms will be as favorable to the borrower as in the earlier years of the current economic expansion."

She added that "cross currents that signal a pause in the rate of economic growth are a wholesome sign for real estate markets. With the exception of home building, private construction in 1967 will approximate or exceed somewhat the rate of 1966, and the volume of transfers of existing property of all type will equal or top the level of activity stated this year."

Jill Helland, New Arrival

JILL HELLAND, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolf E. Halverson, 1229 Highland Dr., Prospect Heights, was born Nov. 27 at Lutheran General Hospital.

Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Manning of Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gayach of Chicago.

Former Fat Men Not So Jolly

The best emotional medicine for many extremely obese persons of the "bushy-browed" variety is to stay fat, a Northwestern University psychiatrist reports.

The psychological advantage of being a fat man was described in a paper presented at the annual meeting of the Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine at Las Vegas, by Dr. Howard D. Kurland, assistant professor in the Northwestern University Medical School's neurology and psychiatry department and chief of psychiatric services at the Northwestern-affiliated Veterans Administration Hospital in Chicago.

His conclusions were based on a study of 30 substantially overweight men and their emotional reactions to various types of testing. The study was made at the Clinical Investigation Center of the U.S. Naval Hospital in Oakland, Calif. Many of Dr. Kurland's subjects lost more than a pound a day during their two-month stay at the hospital—only to gain it back after their release to hospital.

Some extremely obese people have no significant psychologic impairment, said Dr. Kurland, and their food intake is regulated by the body's "reduction" mechanism. Dr. Kurland generated:

1. While they are fat, their weight does not appear to be a problem, and they do not expect them to perform better or worse than normal physical tasks. When they return to their normal weight, they find they are expected to perform much more physical effort.

2. It is very frequently regarded as a "fat, jolly man." People are generally kinder to them.

3. Their physical health is usually good, and other persons with such opportunities are envious.

4. They often interpret their size as a sign of good health.

5. Most obese persons had embarrassing contacts with the opposite sex during their childhood. Saying fat, they realize, will prevent them from being friends with embarrassing contacts.

Dr. Kurland theorized that some women, particularly those undergoing the menopause, like being fat because it makes them appear to be pregnant.

OF SEVERAL methods used in the Oakland study, the two obese men lost the most rapid weight loss were total fasting for 10 to 20 days, and a high fat, 1,000-calorie-a-day regimen, he reported.

The high fat, 1,000 calorie diet consisted of such fare as butter and eggs for breakfast, tuna fish or a salad with conventional mayonnaise for lunch and small portions of meat and dessert for dinner.

He was expected to perform certain physical tasks from which he had previously been exempted. In the more slim and more physically fit shape, his wife expected him to be more successful than physically and sexually.

"THE PATIENT was able to endure these psychological tests for more than one week," Dr. Kurland wrote. "Subsequently, he overcame his emotional equilibrium and gained a pound a day over the next two-month period."

The result? "The patient was able to restore his emotional equilibrium after rapidly regaining all of his lost weight," Dr. Kurland said.

Winter Driving Test

What you don't know CAN hurt you, especially if it's in the area of driving safety.

The following quiz prepared by the Chicago Motor Club can point up "papa" in your driving knowledge which you do not fill in by studying the correct answers. Score 20 points for each right answer.

1. If you suddenly find your car on a icy patch, what should you do?

a. accelerate
b. slow down quickly
c. avoid braking
d. turn wheel hard and forth

2. What is the primary advantage of "pumping" your brakes?

a. it shortens stopping distance
b. it reduces stress on brake linings
c. it creates more heat in brake cylinders
d. it helps prevent skidding

3. When is an icy road likely to be most dangerous?

a. when the ice is melting
b. when the temperature is close to zero
c. when you're the first to drive on it
d. when the ice is frozen solid

4. If your rear wheels start skidding to the right, which way should you turn your front wheels?

a. either way, but quickly
b. right
c. either way, but slowly
d. left

5. If steam forms on the inside of your windshield, what's the best thing to do?

a. stop car and wipe outside of glass with glycerine
b. open one vent window slightly and turn on defroster
c. decrease speed, until you're going slow enough for steam to disappear
d. wipe steam off as often as you can as you drive along

ANSWERS: 1-c. Any sudden motion may throw you into a skid. Do not brake, but slow down gradually and be alert for more patches. 2-d. "Pumping" eliminates chances of skidding and locking of wheels, but does not shorten stopping distance. 3-a. Ice is always most slippery at, or near freezing point. 4-b. Turn wheel in direction of skid to bring car under control, avoid "over steering," and slow down gradually. 5-b. If this doesn't work or if steam is too much, pull well off roadway and clear it away.

BY DOLores HALL
How does a woman get to be one of Phyllis Diller's top writers?

She answered, "I was just a housewife who always wanted to write and so I submitted some religious prose to a publishing house and they paid me $1." From this humble beginning, Mrs. McBride nourished a fabulous career.

She decided that the things her children did and said were funny enough to bear repeating. She submitted one small quip to Art Linkletter for his book "Kids Say the Darndest Things." He liked it, and used it.

THE QUIP was about her daughter who was 5 and had started to make breakfast before the rest of the family was awake. She came into the bedroom and said, "I can get the bread in the toaster. Momma, but I can't flush it." Jack Paar thought that was so funny he repeated it as one of his shows and this inspired Mrs. McBride to collect and organize home type humor for the open market.

Her next venture was submitting possible cartoons and captions to The Saturday Evening Post and Life's "Grip and Gripe" cartoons.

After encountering marketing her quips, Mrs. McBride assembled and submitted without solicitation material to Phyllis Diller. She did not hear from her but thought nothing of it for another material in a column accepted from unknown writers.

"That one caught the phrasing," said Mrs. McBride, "and was Phyllis."

That was the beginning of a happy working time as Phyllis Diller uses home type "grip" in one show. She submitted one home type humor and adapted Mrs. McBride's material for her then writers, especially for one situation.

"Once Phyllis had a sore foot and needed a line to cover her line in one of her episodes on the 'Prize of South Hampton.' I wrote there in my kitchen with my fry fish, it's just that the skin's too small."

Mrs. McBride collaborated on Phyllis Diller's recent book published by Doubleday entitled "Phyllis Diller's Housewife Humor." She is currently busy working on her new "Phyllis Diller's Heavy and Chorus" which includes such chapter titles as "How to Get the Cheese Marks Out of Your Face" and "The Doorbell Rings," a chapter on overeating and "I Am Garbaged Here Together" and one called "Husband and Other Ugly Subjects."

Accused with literally hundreds of open for many situations, Mrs. McBride modestly said she is "just a housewife" and named it up by stating, "I took my father four weeks to get my name on the credit card at 'The Franks of South Hampton.'"

Snow Can Be Beauty

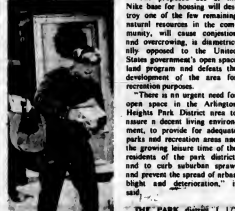

Too late for Christmas, but there were plenty of Christmas cards and light scenes such as this in Arlington Heights yesterday. This is at the corner of Derbyshire and Mayfair.

Or a Hard Working Day...

Firefighting is only part of the job. Firemen Chuck Saugham and Phil Cappeletti shovelled snow from driveway at North Side Station on Arlington Heights Rd.

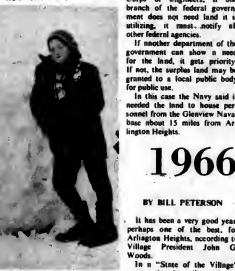

"Neither rats nor snow," said Currier Jim Swankish makes deliveries to S. Gibson.

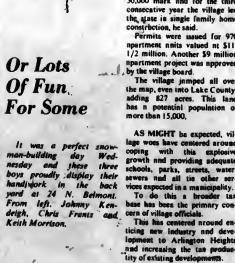

Arlington Day yesterday Glenn Martin didn't let a little snow stop him from his work.

Or Lots Of Fun For Some

It was a perfect snow-building day Wednesday and these boys proudly display their handiwork in the back yard on 24 N. Belmont. From left, Johnny Kendrick, Chris Francis and Keith Morrison.

Park Board Requests Like Land Review

Need Cited For More Park Land

The Arlington Heights Park District has asked the Department of Defense to reconsider its decision to use the Nike base for a Navy housing project. The Navy has plans to build 200 housing units on 100 acres of land that the Park District would like for parks.

The land has been declared surplus property and is no longer needed for the Nike base.

IN A resolution passed in its last meeting the Park District said:

"The proposed sale of the Nike base for housing will deny one of the few remaining natural resources in the community, will cause economic and recreational loss to the United States government's open space program and defeats the development of the area for recreational purposes."

"There is no urgent need for open space in the Arlington Heights Park District area to insure a decent living environment, to provide for adequate parks and recreation areas and the growing leisure time of the residents of the park district, and to curb suburban sprawl and prevent the spread of urban blight and deterioration."

"THE PARK district (1/2 acre) has to be sold for the land when it is needed for the Nike base declared surplus but it plans were attacked when it learned that the Nike base also asked for it."

The land is owned by the U. S. Government, not any branch of it.

According to the 5th Army Corps of Engineers, if one branch of the federal government does not need land it is selling it, must, and all other federal agencies.

If another department of the government can show a need for the land, it gets priority. If not, the surplus land may be granted to a local public body for public use.

In this case the Navy said it needed the land to house personnel from the Chevrolet Naval yard about 15 miles from Arlington Heights.

By BILL PETERSON

It has been a very good year, perhaps one of the best, for Arlington Heights, according to Village President John G. Woods.

In a "State of the Village" report to the village board, Woods characterized 1966 as a year of "dynamic growth."

Population approached the 50,000 mark and for the third consecutive year the village led the state in single family home construction, he said.

Permits were issued for 970 new homes, valued at $117.2 million. Another 39 million in construction projects was approved by the village board.

The village jumped all over the map, even into Lake County, adding 427 acres. The land has a potential population of more than 15,000.

AS NIGHT is expected, village growth has continued apace with the explosive growth and providing adequate schools, parks, streets, water, sewer, and all other services expected in a municipality.

To this a broader tax base has been the primary concern of village officials.

The tax base around existing new industry and development in Arlington Heights and increasing the tax productivity of existing development.

Marjorie Breckman of the Countryside Art Gallery presents a pledge of appreciation to Tom Johnson (left) and Paul Sammons, co-owners of The Celler, after this week's charity dance.

Fund Dance Big Success

A charity dance Monday night at the Celler featuring four rock and roll bands netted the building fund of the Countryside Art Center building fund $1,135.

The guests, who paid $1 each to attend the dance, were Saturday's Children, The Same, The Idea of March and The Muffs, and the Celler. Owners Tom Johnson and Paul Sammons said that the event attracted the largest crowd in the establishment's history.

WHILE the four groups provided continuous entertainment, guests arriving late had trouble finding parking places.

Sammons and Johnson expressed their thanks for the patience of those living in the neighborhood of the Celler who had trouble finding a place to park near their homes because of the pre-fro crowd.

"I hope they understood," Sammons said. "We're for good and worthwhile cause."

First Reading Presented For Manager Ordinance

At the next council meeting.

The establishment of a new city manager was one of the items on the agenda of Mayor William Muehle. Last Monday night a city manager was made an item at several weeks ago when former alderman Nicholas Schmidt disclosed that he had been approached while he was serving on the council and asked if he would support a city manager ordinance and the resignation of City Controller R.D. Hennigson to the new position.

Although Schmidt's allegations were not denied, his charge that a salary law was proposed in order to raise money for the city manager $15,000 a year was totally denied by Muehle, Garcia and Hennigson.

McFeggan Serves On DAMP

James McFeggan, representative of public works in Arlington Heights, has been appointed to DAMP, the Des Plaines Association of Municipalities, Mount Prospect and Palatine water commission.

The appointment was announced by Mayor William Muehle at last Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington Heights city council.

McFeggan said after his appointment that although Arlington Heights is not a member of the commission, any plans made by DAMP have as indirect effect on the city.

"I will act as a liaison between Arlington Heights and DAMP," McFeggan said, adding that any action taken by this commission certainly is important to our city and I will be present at commission meetings to keep tabs on their plans and policies.

Gripe Of The Day

The village board is meeting at 8 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 29, at the City Hall.

1966 -- A Dynamic Year

When developed in a parking lot, or 100 if required in a four-story parking garage.

A SPECIAL committee made up of the village board, the Plan Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals studied village council requirements and recommended measures to stimulate downtown development.

Plans were announced this year for a $1 million expansion of the Illinois Bell Telephone exchange.

It also granted commercial and industrial included the 345-acre Chesterfield development in the largest suburban request in village history.

Modernization of the downtown business district. Last November the village board program to encourage downtown development in the 100-acre, Agave, Little program, however, has been denied.

Everything was set for the village in 1966. Several projects aimed for completion during the year were not completed. Among the setbacks were:

The June 9 tornado which caused $300,000 damage to property.

The ability tax passed by the village board to pay for the tornado damage.

Motorola Plant Biggest Under Roof in State

A new Motorola plant now under construction in Schaumburg is the largest manufacturing facility under one roof in Illinois during 1966, according to a State Chamber of Commerce report.

The 574,000 - square foot communications division facility is scheduled for completion in mid-1967.

A study by the Chamber of Commerce showed that 1966 plant patterns are much the same as in previous years. Chemicals, food processing and electronic industries lead all others in the construction of new plants.

Results of the study were announced by Frank J. Merrill, chairman of the State Chamber's Economic Development Committee and vice president of Butler-Crescent Co., DeKalb.

MERRILL said new industry decided to invest in Illinois in 1966 because of its proximity to Midwestern industrial and consumer markets, outstanding rail, water, highway and air transportation facilities and state environment for business operations.

"The 1966 record is a reflection of the high regard in which Illinois is held by top management of leading companies," he said. "The fact that dozens of blue chip companies added or are planning to add hundreds of millions of dollars of investment in the state serves to further reinforce the view that Illinois is highly attractive to companies that take great care in selecting plant locations."

He said existing Illinois firms spent $100 million to plant additions last year.

HEADING the list in Deere Company's $30 million forestry house, built in Silvio Orlans county, is Continental Can Co., Quincy, R.R. Donnelley & Sons Co., Matteson, Dow-Jones & Co., Highland, Inland Steel Co., Moline, Motorola Inc., Franklin Park, Quincy and Schaumburg, National Biscuits Co., Naperville, Sweetheart Corp., Chicago, Warren-Lambert Pharmacy, Oakbrook, and Major Plant Corp., Melrose Park.

Other plants located by companies which are new to Illinois include Buckhorn Chemical Co., Streamwood, Calumet, Inc., Charleston, Marlow Chemical Division of Borg Warner Corp., Ottawa, Mitchell-Sherley Corp., Canfield, and Pittsburgh-based Moines Steel Co., Marseilles.

Arnold J. Rosen (right), state director for the U. S. Savings Bond Division, Treasury Department, presents a miniature flag to Fred R. Boyett, 1307 E. Chardon, Arlington Heights. The flag was presented to Boyett, who is commander of U.S. Customs, Region IX, in recognition of 100 per cent participation in the savings bond program. Boyett's region encompasses the 13 Midwest states, including eight major customs districts, 69 ports and the headquarters in Chicago. More than 900 full-time employees work in the region.

Minimum Wage Law To Change

More than 514,000 construction workers will fall under the minimum wage and overtime laws beginning Feb. 1. The new covered workers will be entitled to $1 an hour beginning in February, and overtime pay after 40 hours a week. On Feb. 1, 1968, the minimum wage advances to $1.15 an hour and overtime after 42 hours a week, beginning Feb. 1, 1969, the minimum rises to $1.30.

Construction workers who were covered by the Act prior to 1966 will be entitled to a $1.40 minimum wage after Feb. 1, 1967, and $1.60 an hour after Feb. 1, 1968. Under 1966 amendments to the act, all construction workers are now covered, regardless of the size of the enterprise for which they work.

Bond Sales

Sales of series E and H savings bonds were $17,800,299 during November. This is 6.2 per cent above sales for the same month last year, according to Arnold J. Rosen, state director of the Treasury Department's savings bond division.

Elementary Education Classes Open

Students may enroll at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 4, for the evening course to be offered during the winter quarter by National College of Education, Evanston, at Prospect High School.

The course in elementary school curriculum will be held from 7-9:30 p.m. on Wednesday through March 15 at the high school, 801 S. Foundry Rd., Mount Prospect.

Debs Bow At Holy Family Cotillion

The auxiliary of Holy Family Hospital is the first to present a tradition for the northwest area Tuesday when it presented 16 young women to society in a lavish holiday party in the Great Hall of the Post-Congress Hotel.

The Rt. Rev. Hugh Francis Byrne, vice-general of the Catholic Church, received the brides at the auxiliary's first Christmas cotillion.

About 300 guests, including the Princesses of Thailand and the consuls of Bolivia, Costa Rica, Germany, the Netherlands, the Philippines, Spain, Turkey and Lebanon enjoyed the cotillion in the festively decorated hall.

Before the debutantes made their appearances, James Slattery, master of ceremonies, invoked the spirit. "What Are Little Girls Made Of?"

The debutantes, wearing white gowns and carrying bouquets of pink carnations, entered through an arch of roses and were greeted by their fathers.

A string ensemble of the Bad Daddies Orchestra played as the young women marched down a red carpet to meet their escorts. They passed through four white Roman arches flanked by boys and girls, who were the candidates where the Rt. Rev. Francis Byrne, addressed them.

THE DEBS performed cotillion figures with their fathers for the evening's first dance. The first dance before dinner with their escorts.

Catherine Leone of Mount Prospect, the most petite of the debs, led the procession. Catherine, a talented actress, appeared in the cotillion gown. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Louis B. Leone.

Two sets of waters were included in the procession. They were Patricia and Linda Bridget Stanton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton of Mount Prospect, and Catherine and Laura Vasquez, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. H. Richard Vasquez of Chicago.

OTHER girls who bowed were Bonnie Louise Schemel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Schemel of Des Plaines; Penelope Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis of Mount Prospect; Marilee Judith George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard George of Mount Prospect; Madonna Dorothy McMahon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J.A. McMahon of Mount Prospect; Mary Kay Crnich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony B. Crnich of Mount Prospect; James Marshall Crnich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Crnich of Mount Prospect.

Also, Elizabeth Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cheney of Mount Prospect; K. A. B. Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of Des Plaines; Florine Jo Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Frank of Mount Prospect; Francine Joy Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneider of Mount Prospect; and Tara Dowd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dowd of Des Plaines.

Executive chairman of the event was Mrs. Robert Buckley, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Carl Bohren, vice and menu chairman.

Some of the debs are pictured on this page as they attended a tea held for them at the hospital by Sister Anna, Holy Family administrator.

Scores High in Debate

A Prospect High School freshman (top) in Arlington Heights took high honors in the annual debate tournament held at Bishop McNamara High School in Kenilworth last week.

Bob Karlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Karlock, 1512 E. Campbell, was awarded the second place speakers ribbon at the debate.

The 1966-67 debate topic was, "Resolved: That the foreign and program of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance."

Taking the affirmative position, the Prospect High School freshman debate was three out of four decisions.

Ed Tito, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tito, 1521 E. Miner, Arlington Heights and Dave and Marilee Ashley, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.K. Ashley.

FOR FRIDAY

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 20): There's nothing to gain in trying to catch up with the work-year just past. Save your energies for the new year.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): Good being wacky-study in your attitudes today. This is the time for courage and the spirit of adventure in your work.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21): Actions will determine your progress today. Don't be caught short, however, when it comes to facts and figures Jo back them.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20): Don't hesitate to take action on a matter vital to your future. End the old work-year with a bang and you'll be happy.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21): Make today's decision and plan for many that you didn't make in the past. This is your last chance of the year to improve.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21): A day when you may well find yourself in the limelight as far as your employer is concerned. Don't shy away from recognition.

CANCER (June 22-July 23): Work things before social engagements. See that you accomplish what you set out to do before turning to lighter matters.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23): You should be able to forward your own plans easily today. Do so before seeking relaxation in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23): Avoid taking on too big a load this last work-day of the year. Health is vital if you're to enjoy the week end.

LIBA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23): A good day for establishing a business deal. Make arrangements that can take effect right after the new year.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23): Take full advantage of an opportunity to have personal affairs go your way for a change. Don't worry about another's outside meddling.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23): An important day for the Sagittarius who is willing to let bygones be bygones. You're so worried when someone can do for you.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Arlington's Streak Comes to 59-57 End

KANKAKEE (special to the Day)—Who is Worcester?

That's what startled Arlington High School basketball fans are asking today in disbelief.

Walt, Worcester, located in Kankakee, is a high school with a basketball team now on site but long on desire, and that's why the Cardinals came out on the scene and of a 59-57 score last night in the semifinals of the Kankakee Extralodge Holiday Tournament.

The loss was only demoralizing. Cardinals out of the running for the tourney title, it spelled what had been an impressive, 70-match record. What little consolation can be gained from the defeat comes from the realization that the Cardinals have led in the tourney.

THE DIFFERENCE was made in the shooting statistics. Arlington shot at a 37.5 clip, hitting on 21 of 56 shots. Worcester, a considerably smaller team than Arlington, converted 25 of 56 shots in 44 attempts for a 39.29 percent.

Arlington made only 15 of 34 free throws, while on the other hand, Worcester hit 20 of 24.

Several of Arlington's mistakes came on valuable one-and-one opportunities in the first half, which ended the Cardinals with a 24-16 lead.

Worcester pressed Arlington's guard right from the start with a man-to-man defense, building a 16-10 first-quarter lead. The Cards cut the gap during the second quarter.

Forest View 5 Bows at Danville

DANVILLE, Ill. (special to The Day)—Forest View's almost-but-not-quite variety cast square suffered a 1-6-0 first-round loss last night to the host team in the Danville Holiday Basketball Tournament.

The Falcons, who came within one point of tying the score several times in the game, were never ahead in the game, but did a respectable job against a taller, more experienced club.

Though the Falcons made only 10 of 24 shots, they seemed to come alive at the 4:00 mark. Just seconds later a personal foul from Danville broke the game open again.

A TRAVELING CLUB while the Falcons made 10 of 24 shots, they seemed to come alive at the 4:00 mark. Just seconds later a personal foul from Danville broke the game open again.

WILEY BRASCH managed to keep Danville off the boards pretty well, the Viking point guard was able to score consistently from his high position, but was unable to free the free-throw line. He finished with 19 points on eight field goals and three charity shots.

Forest View had a shooting edge all the way on. Forest View, hitting on 27 of 72 shots for a 37.5 clip. The Falcons shot 12 of 41 shots for a 29.3 clip.

BUCKY NOYES, the scrappy 6-0 senior, was again the Falcons' most valuable player. He tallied 14 points, five field goals and eight of 13 free-throw attempts. Noyes, who staged 11 of Forest View's 13 rebounds. The latter boys were off the boards.

Part of the Danville rebounding edge came from the early loss of Ted Lambert by the Falcons on field. The senior forward picked up his fifth personal foul in the second quarter and was replaced by 5-11 Bob Arnold. Arnold did not play long, getting 10 points and 11 rebounds, but just wasn't big enough to control the tall Viking forward well.

ARNOLD ALSO GOT a workout early in the game when Forest View center Horve Brasch was temporarily sidelined by a twisted ankle. The injury came after just two minutes of play, and the Falcons tried to hold the ball while the 6-1 senior tried to pull the jumper into the top of the key.

The loss left the Falcons with a season record of 3-3, and dropped them into the consolation bracket. Forest View's opponent, led most of the way by Danville, collapsed in the final minutes to suffer a 66-62 defeat.

If the Falcons win at 6:00 tonight, they'll compete in the consolation semifinals at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow. The consolation finals are slated for 4:45 p.m. tomorrow.

TODAY THE FALCONS were slated for a short, light workout at a Danville junior high, and planned to begin the season of the early afternoon. Maps were on the school grounds in the afternoon in anticipation of tonight's last starting time.

The squad arrived in Danville yesterday morning, struggling through heavy snows as

Celebration Next Wednesday

Woman's Club to Mark 80th Anniversary

MRS. HERTA LEVY

The 80th anniversary of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club will be celebrated by club members beginning at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 4 at Recreation Park.

Luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. Donald M. Kane and her committee. The regular club program will begin at 1:15 p.m.

Mrs. Herta Levy, one of few women stockbrokers in the nation, will address the group.

Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will preside at the celebration. Other special guests will be officers of the Seventh District, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs and past presidents of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

SPECIAL recognition will be given 26 club members who have 25 years of membership in the club and one member with 50 years of membership.

A musical rendition of the 80 years of the club will be presented by two members. Mrs. G. W. Hendrick will narrate and Mrs. Dana W. Jacobsen will sing. Mrs. Ed Peterson will accompany them.

Mrs. Herta Levy, speaker for the program, came to Chicago from Germany in 1929. She joined the club in 1931. To help wives, widows, business and professional women establish themselves in Chicago and set up programs to meet them, Mrs. Levy lectures and travels widely.

MRS. LEVY has studied at Brynau and Swanton Business College, Northwestern University School of Commerce, University of Chicago, Institute of Finance. She is a member of the Stockholders' Association of Chicago, the International Analysts' Society of Chicago and the New York Society of Securities Analysts.

Active in many philanthropic, she serves on the Women's

Board of the Foundation for Hearing and Speech Rehabilitation of the Michael Reese Hospital.

January business will be Mrs. Edward Howell and Mrs. Herman Melt, Chairman of the 80th anniversary committee in Mrs. C. R. Velt. Mrs. Stephen Jaro is the president of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

An Elegant Holiday Setting

Colby's Opens New Store

Colby's has opened a six-story, 100,000-sq.-ft. furniture complex at 1001 Skokie Blvd. in Northbrook.

The facility is a split-level building housing more than 100 room suites, merchandise, a community room facility and storage warehouse.

Wallace L. Crawford, president of Colby's, said, "The conventional home furnishings store presents individual pieces of furniture."

"Colby's presents every home furnishings item in a room setting, related to its place in the living room, bedroom, and the like."

IN THE move to Northbrook from its Chicago location, the 100-year-old John A. Colby & Sons also abandoned its old name to Colby's.

The new complex site is visible from Edens Expressway and accessible via the Dan-Dee exit.

Presbyterian Ministers Hit Opposition to Change

BY JAM BONE

Presbyterian ministers in Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights sharply criticized a six-column-wide advertisement in a Wednesday Chicago newspaper urging every member of the United Presbyterian Church to repudiate the Church's new proposed Confession of Faith.

The advertisement, sponsored by Presbyterian Lay Committee, Inc. of New York City, (see church-affiliate page), calls the proposed Confession "unwise and unchristian."

It says the new Confession "distorts the message of the Bible as the infallible Word of God," and says that the Confession is a corporate body, should not be involved in local, political, and economic issues.

On Feb. 16, ministers and lay delegates from approximately 150 churches in the Chicago Presbytery will decide whether to adopt the proposed Confession.

Harold Witte, of Mount Prospect, and Kenneth Pyle, of Des Plaines, are two of the delegates (ruling elders) who will be asked to vote on the new Confession.

All 24 of the 24 Presbyteries within the Chicago Presbytery will have at least one ruling elder there, as well as ministers responsible for bringing the Confession before Presbytery for the formal vote Feb. 16.

He plans to lead a six-week study group. "I don't think it's a good idea," he said, "to have a study group on this. The proposed Confession is a bad idea."

The ad also says that the Confession is a bad idea because it is a corporate body, should not be involved in local, political, and economic issues.

He said it made generalizations about the Confession, and that the Confession is a corporate body, should not be involved in local, political, and economic issues.

Looking Backward on Wonderful Year

By Catherine O'Donnell

It has been a wonderful year. Looking backward is as much fun as looking forward.

There have been so many things and so many nice people to write about.

Conrad Shanley, list of the local artists and flower than ever showing hours.

Betty Berglund who bowed a most 333 in the Christmas Tree Sale.

The meat shop who stole Tommy Gerry's bike and smashed it.

The happy birthday of Harold Lamore on vacation in Saratoga, Fla. last year.

Bill Newman's old barber chair and his wonderful memories.

Cpl. Bill Osterman receiving a pay by enough for

Jaycees Happy Over Tree Sales

The Arlington Heights Jaycees Christmas Tree sale was a "uniquely" successful venture.

Dr. Walter Anderson, Dr. Rouse and Dr. Chamberlain.

On the behalf of the Jaycees we would like to thank the community for its support in this endeavor.

The Arlington Heights Jaycees Chapter depends upon the funds derived from projects such as this to promote and implement their community programs throughout the year.

They added, "The Jaycees offer young men of the community an excellent opportunity for leadership and positions of responsibility on various committees."

Co-Chairman

LaVelle D. Platt, 1000 E. Olsen, Arlington Heights, has been named co-chairman of the 1964 civic organization for the Chicago-Kankakee Lake Educational Campaign.

The campaign goals as additional endorsement of $1 million over the next five years.

Horoscope

FOR SATURDAY

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 20) - Take your time preparing for evening festivities or you may find that you have left out the most important ingredients for fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) - Moderation is called for in spite of the intoxication of the social aspects of life. Avoid over-indulging.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) - This day's social events could prove highly advantageous to you both personally and professionally. Make good contacts.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) - An excellent time for settling personal relations, especially with distant members of the family. Use the telephone.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) - You'll be able to celebrate in a happier frame of mind if you take some time out today to give another a helping hand.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) - Don't let holiday gaiety keep you from performing necessary business functions. You can catch your spirit during evening socializing.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) - Try something different by way of celebrating the new year. When tomorrow comes, you'll be glad you did.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) - If possible mix business and pleasure. Think about including business associates in your plans for the evening festivities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) - Romance could be revived by a number of courses today. Don't be swayed off your track by a series of invitations or suggestions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) - Best to put off important business decisions until early in the week. Save your energy and thought for New Year's eve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) - Spend the day and evening quietly with family and friends if you can get away with it. Don't forget to include younger family members.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) - Don't make too many plans for the evening and, above all, don't include too many people in these plans. Limit your high spirits.

Viator Cagers Get Consolation Victory

BY BOB CASTELLONE

Una Collins, a dark-haired senior forward, led St. Viator's sometimes-up, sometimes-down Lions to their second straight basketball victory last night, beating Carmel of Moline, 71-60.

The win, which won the Lions' season record at 3-5, secured the winners a shot at the consolation championship against the winner of last night's Foran-Maine South game. The consolation finals are slated for 7:30 p.m. tonight. The Notre Dame-Walker contest for the tourney championship will follow at 9 p.m.

THOUGH THE LIONS won by an 11-point margin, the triumph didn't come easily. In a game more emotional play by Collins, including a 21-point outburst, to keep the Navy and White out of trouble. In addition to his own scoring, Collins was a bear on the backboard, and almost single-handedly applied the Carmel offense with thefts and interceptions. He was fouled out of the game.

The Lions trailed 25-20 with 2:30 to play in the first half before they began to turn permanently in their favor. The lead had increased through the first quarter and part of the second before Carmel jumped the Lions ahead.

FOLK STRAIGHT Cuts and turnover late in the second quarter enabled the Lions to take a 31-29 lead into the intermission.

Two straight buckets by Tom Epapery won the country that brought the Viatorians from behind.

The St. Viator lead vacillated between three and nine points in the third period, but Carmel was unable to get over the hump. St. Viator's Mike Jones broke away for the final quarter—the best for either team in that period.

A THREE-POINT PLAY by Collins boosted the margin to 46 points with 6:35 left in the game. Carmel staged the first two rallies at that point to cut the Lions lead to half.

Collins and Greg Polch took charge again for the Lions, making 12 of 18 and three free throws to make the score 60-37. With 2:10 left, three straight buckets without retaliation by St. Viator cut Carmel's deficit to 68-60 with 25 seconds to play, but a breakaway free throw and a Collins fielder, with nine seconds left, awarded the Lions the victory.

Celebration Next Wednesday

Woman's Club to Mark 80th Anniversary

MRS. HERTA LEVY

The 80th anniversary of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club will be celebrated by club members beginning at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 4 at Recreation Park.

Luncheon will be served at 1:15 p.m. by Mrs. Donald M. Kern, past club president. The regular club program will begin at 1:15 p.m.

Mrs. Herta Levy, one of the women stockbrokers in the nation, will address the group.

Mrs. Clarence Henderson, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will attend the celebration. Other special guests will be officers of the Illinois Division, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs and past presidents of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

SPECIAL recognition will be given 34 club members who have 25 years of membership in the club and one member with 50 years of membership.

A musical reminiscence of the 80 years of the club will be presented by two members, Mrs. D. M. Kendrick will narrate and Mrs. Dan W. Jacobs will sing. Mrs. Ed. Patterson will accompany them.

Mrs. Herta Levy, speaker for the program, came to Chicago from Germany in 1939.

She joined Peace, Warbler in 1941. To help wives, widows, and orphans, she organized a women's auxiliary investment fund to help the program.

She has been a member of the Stockholders' Association of Chicago, the Ladies' Aid Society of Chicago, and the New York Society of Securities Analysts.

Active in many philanthropies, she serves on the Women's Board of the Foundation for Hearing and Speech Research, the Michael Reese Hospital.

She is a member of the New York Institute of Finance. She is a member of the Stockholders' Association of Chicago, the Ladies' Aid Society of Chicago, and the New York Society of Securities Analysts.

Active in many philanthropies, she serves on the Women's Board of the Foundation for Hearing and Speech Research, the Michael Reese Hospital.

Some Day

"Our water problem will soon be solved," said Uncle John Silverman, official editor of 1966 progress reports and projections for 1967.

"You think the Supreme Court will regulate the threat of the suburbs and lead to the favor of our water commission's asked his friend Zoran Fish."

"The issue may be decided outside of the court," explained Uncle John, "now that we have the Navy on our side."

"The Navy has heard about our surplus land that the Nike Base does not need for those radar facilities or underground sites. It wants to build houses here so the land-based sailors at Glenview can have some place to call home."

"That is the same property the park district has staked out, for a golf course," said Zoran. "Now is the Navy going to solve our water problem by building more houses?"

"I will take just a little selling on our part with the Navy," Uncle John said. "After all, a sailor even in the Midwest ought not forget the sea."

"The Navy could build a canal from Lake Michigan right through Glenview to Arlington Heights so the sailors could row home in style. Even the suburbs could sail their yacht down the channel if the Navy plans to build any bridges."

"It is easy to see that all the villages could build irrigation plants along the canal and siphon off the water they need."

"The idea has merit," agreed Zoran. "But if there does not look good for the park district's golf course, I don't see it."

"Oh, right," said Uncle John. "We will have a better golf course than if we had to build it with golf even less money."

... by Frank E. Von Arx

"The Navy naturally would put in a typical government development and the leisure time of its officers and men would be consumed. The Navy would need a golf course, bowling alleys, yacht centers, de-powered railroad tracks, water tanks, new fire stations, everything that we have not been able to afford said now."

"And in a government budget you probably would not even notice the cost."

"While the village would welcome these Navy men as residents, just as it welcomes all of its new citizens, we believe that the best interests of the future development of the entire northwest suburban area depends on preservation of open space."

We join the Arlington Heights park board in labeling the Navy's plan for the Nike site as "diametrically opposed to the government's open space land program and defeating the development of the area for recreational purposes."

Longer needed for protection of national security, then it should be returned to the people of Arlington Heights and developed as recreational land for future generations to use and enjoy.

The Navy has expressed intention to build homes for personnel stationed at the Glenview Naval Base, some 20 miles from Arlington Heights.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

One area where even the most ardent conservative believes federal money can be well utilized is in the preservation of the open space land for future recreational development.

The main complaint is that the federal marshing funds to communities for acquiring open space is controlled by the urban renewal authority, one of the most vulnerable to criticism of all governmental agencies.

As communities are required to open space becomes vital to our future orderly growth of us are to live in anything but concrete jungles.

One reason that federal money for open space land acquisition is comparable to communities is that it is not a giveaway program. Federal funds are allocated on a matching basis with the communities usually through day contracts and organized park districts.

The community demonstrates its willingness to use local funds to the best of its ability, then the federal government will step in to enable the larger acquisition.

In most cases, there are few strings attached to such matching land agreements. As long as the local community is paying for the land, the government has the control of the land, and its future use, so those who have the needs of the area and the local elected or appointed officials.

There are a few critics of this federal program. They maintain that there are government controls and cite the fact that it is explicit in the agreement that the land must be preserved for open space, with no other use.

This is as it should be. If the grant is made on the basis that the land will be purchased for recreational development.

ment, it does not seem unreasonable to require that the land remain that way through federal administration.

One criticism is that the federal government stipulates that the land must remain in the public domain, and be available to all the public. This usually means that a park district may not determine the land use by minority groups.

Those who criticize the federal program on this point fail to realize that it is against the Constitution of the State of Illinois for public bodies, park districts included, to discriminate against any individual.

BECAUSE of the importance placed on preserving open space, it is hard for us to understand why the U. S. Navy is buying the Arlington Heights Nike site for housing development. On the one hand, the federal urban renewal agency pours millions into land acquisition of open space while the Nike site is on the other hand, attempts to develop with housing the most valuable open space package in the northwest suburbs outside the Cook County Forest Preserve system.

Could this be another of the all too often cases of one hand not knowing what the other is doing in Washington?

The Nike base is 140 acres of potential recreational land that could be put to good use by residents of Arlington Heights and the surrounding area. It is the only substantial tract of potential open space land within the park district.

CERTAINLY, there can be no conflict with the Nike site as a cog in our defense warning system. As long as the base is vital to our national security, the government is within its right to use it for our best interest.

But if the Nike site is no longer needed for protection of national security, then it should be returned to the people of Arlington Heights and developed as recreational land for future generations to use and enjoy.

Clear Enough?

Words—do they're wonderful

Used by experts, they can come out so strongly, so clearly, so articulately that their meaning is unmistakable.

Used by others just to assert, they can be so vague, so obscure, so circuitous that they successfully fudge up whatever meaning the person who used them might have had to convey if he had used them instead of words which would have tipped off his audience to what he was really saying.

Used by a lot of frank and honest double-talkers in as well as with public officials and others who have frequent occasion to wrangle off a hot spot.

A fair example of how a real pro can handle a sticky situation like this was offered recently when Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler addressed the U. S. Savings and Loan League in New York.

Fowler was letting his audience in on the goals of U. S. fiscal policy in 1967. He gave it to them straight and hard, no punches pulled, when he said:

"Although specific measures can help achieve these results, the most fruitful approach would seem to be to shift the mix of policy so as to permit some easing of monetary policy."

How's that for a stunner? Here was something the man on the street could dig. But just in case he couldn't, the words carrying the story added:

"When government officials talk about shifting the mix of policy, they generally mean either raising taxes, cutting federal spending or both. Sources close to Fowler cautioned against reading more into his words than an assertion that the current slowdown in the economy does not rule out a tax increase."

When a speaker has expressed himself so ably that it takes an editorial footnote to give you a clue to what he said, and his buddies have to warn you not to over-interpret it, it's understood it's well, then B.V. has the obligatory jargon-pool.

DOCTOR SAYS

Restoration of Dentures

G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I was quite a while to have my dentures fixed. But when my false teeth were put in even though they look awful to get used to, I was really pleased. Every time I looked good. But now, two years later, my friends say my false teeth are changed. There are lines in the corners of my mouth and upper lip, and my front teeth which were very prominent, hardly when I talk and smile. Mrs. H. J. H.

Now, let's see "Obfuscation" means

He took the dentures to their original high degree of function and appearance by a technique known as "obfuscation."

Keep the Tradition Alive With This FREE GIFT

Since way back when, it's been a tradition to lay aside a little extra money in the kitchen sugar bowl as "between" money—between harvests or just between the good times.

Today, the "between" money is put into a savings account where it has a chance to grow—something it could never do resting in the kitchen bowl.

But we don't want to see the sugar bowl go the way of the buggy whip or the butter churn, so when you open up a new savings account for $100 or more between January 1-10; or if you already have one, should you deposit an additional $100 during this period, we'll give you this old fashioned sugar bowl and creamer set.

And remember, when you add a little sugar to your bowl, THE BANK OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS paid a little "sugar" in your saving account with a BIG 4% interest rate computed MONTHLY and paid semi-annually. Deposits made from the 1st to the 10th of January draw interest from the 1st.

This free gift offer also applies to Certificates of Deposit which are now paying special interest rates.

Presbyterian Ministers Hit Opposition to Change

BY JAN BONE

Presbyterian ministers in Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights sharply criticized a six-column-wide report advertisement in a Wednesday Chicago newspaper urging every member of the United Presbyterian Church to repudiate the Church's new, proposed Confession of Faith.

The advertisement, sponsored by Presbyterian Lay Committees, Inc. of New York City, put a checkmark-lined statement, only the proposed Confession "and not adjoined."

It says the new Confession "weakens the concept of the whole as the Word of God," and says that the Church, as a corporate body, should be involved in social, political, and economic issues. On Feb. 16, ministers and lay delegates from approximately 150 churches in the Chicago Presbytery will decide whether to adopt the proposed Confession.

Harold Myers of Mount Prospect, and Realized Priest, of DuSable, are two of the lay delegates (along with others) who will be asked to "vote their consciences" on the new Confession. All are a Presbyterian church with at least one voting elder there, as well as ministers responsible for bringing the Confession to the vote for the formal vote Feb. 14.

He plans to lead a six-week study course on the Confession, at his Mount Prospect Church during its 100th anniversary Feb. 14.

The ad, which urged Presbyterian laymen to vote "yes" on the new Confession, was sharply criticized by the Rev. M. B. Brown.

He said the new Confession "is not a statement of the whole church," and that it is "not a statement of the whole church," and that it is "not a statement of the whole church."

"The line which the ad is trying to draw would stop Presbyterian participation as a corporate body in the work of the Reformation," he said, "the absolute movement of the Civil War, and the opposition to Hitler in the 1930s."

Local Presbyterian suggestions have been discussed at the proposed Confession for several months.

Last spring, Dr. Joam led a six-week study course on the Confession, at his Mount Prospect Church during its 100th anniversary Feb. 14.

The Rev. John Talbot, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Palatine, has urged every member of the proposed Confession to vote "yes" on the new Confession.

He said the new Confession "is not a statement of the whole church," and that it is "not a statement of the whole church."

"The line which the ad is trying to draw would stop Presbyterian participation as a corporate body in the work of the Reformation," he said, "the absolute movement of the Civil War, and the opposition to Hitler in the 1930s."

Looking Backward on Wonderful Year

It has been a wonderful year looking backward in as much fun as looking forward. There have been so many things and so many people to write about.

Coral Shaffer, last of the local saints and Bessie that were shining brightly.

Betty Bridges who bowled a mean 531 in the Greenway league.

The man that who stole Tami. Gary's bike and smashed it.

The happy birthday of Harold Olson on vacation in Saratoga, Fla. last year.

Bill Newman's old barber chair and its wonderful memories.

Clyde Gil Ostrom recovering a pot hog Ostrom for Jaycees.

OUT OUR WAY

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Horoscope

FOR SATURDAY

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) - Take your time preparing for evening functions or you may find that you have left out a very important ingredient for fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) - Moderation is called for in spite of the misanthropic nature of the social aspect of life. Avoid over-indulging.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) - This day's social events could prove highly advantageous to you both personally and professionally. Make good contacts.

ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) - An excellent time for mounting personal relations, especially with distant members of the family. Use the information.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) - You'll be able to celebrate on a happier frame of mind if you take some time out today to give another a helping hand.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) - Don't let holiday guests keep you from performing money business functions. You can catch your game during evening socializing.

Cancer (June 22 - July 21) - Try something different by way of celebrating the new year. When tomorrow comes, you'll be glad you did.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) - If possible, limit business and pleasure. Think about serious business concerns in your plans for the evening festivities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sep. 23) - Romance could be around any number of corners today. Don't be swept off your feet by a sudden fit of love or sympathy.

LIBRA (Sep. 24 - Oct. 23) - Best to put off important business decisions until early in the week. Save your energy and thought for New Year's eve.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 23) - Spend the day and evening quietly with family and friends if you can get away with it. Don't forget to include your family members.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 - Dec. 23) - Don't make too many plans for the evening and, above all, don't include too many people in those plans. Limit your high spirits.

Viator Cagers Get Consolation Victory

BY BOB CASTLERLINE

Don Collins, a dark-haired senior forward, led St. Viator's sometimes-up, sometimes-down Lions to their second straight basketball victory last night, beating Carmel of Mundelein, 71-60.

The win, which evened the Lions' season record at 5-5, turned the winners a shot at the consolation championship against the winner of last night's Forrester-Maine South game. The consolation finals are slated for 7:30 p.m. tonight. The Notre Dame-Walker contest for the tourney championship will follow at 9 p.m.

THROUGH THE LEADS was by an 11-point margin, the triumph didn't come easily. Look some sensational play by Collins, including a 21-point game against Maine. West and White out of trouble. Collins was a hero on the backboard and with a handsomely spotted the Carmel offense off the St. Viator press.

The Lions trailed 25-20 with 2:30 to play in the first half before the lead began to turn permanently in their favor. The lead had increased after the first quarter and part of the second before Carmel jumped five points late.

Routs Eastridge 65-42 Arlington Places Third

KANAKAKE, Ill. (Special to the Day) — Arlington rebounded nicely from its first basketball loss of the year last night to snap a 64-42 defeat on the host school in the Kanakake Eastridge Holiday Basketball Tournament.

THE WIN, which was against one loss, gave the Cardinals, the tournament's third-place trophy. The Cardinals were bumped into the third-place battle on Wednesday by Westview, which played Channahon East for the tourney title last night.

Arlington was led by 15-year-old Jim Dineen, who finished in eight figures, and scored four first halves to lead the team with 19 points. Arlington shot 50 percent from the field and 75 percent from the free-throw line.

THE CARDINALS hit on 19 field goal attempts in only 15 minutes, and converted 27 times in 32 shots from the free-throw line. Eastridge put up 16 first-half points, and 12 of them.

Arlington grabbed a 15-8 first quarter lead, but it was a wild rally in the third quarter that broke the game open. The Big Red dumped in 23 points to the hoarse lead to grab a 46-20 lead going into the first period.

Arlington was not returning, action until January 9, which resumes Mid-Suburban League play against Maine. West at home. The Cardinals are, 4-0 in league action, and are tied with Forest View for the top spot.
